

JEAN-FRANÇOIS ERNOTTE BECOMES MANAGING DIRECTOR OF VET X

Vet X, a company specialised in veterinary equipment and subsidiary of the Examion group, announces the appointment of Jean-François Ernotte as Managing Director.

The appointment of Jean-François Ernotte as Managing Director is part of the growth strategy of Vet X, the Belgian subsidiary of the German group Examion, a key player in the European radiology market. Jean-François Ernotte succeeds Francis Jaspas, the company's founder, who is retiring.

Vet X and its team of 14 motivated employees aim to double their turnover in the coming years.

With an experience of 28 years, including more than 20 years in the veterinary sector, Jean-François' objective is to strengthen and structure his team in order to position Vet X as a key player in the sector. His strategy is to continue to distribute state-of-the-art solutions for veterinary practice in the fields of medical imaging, surgery, sterilisation and physiotherapy.

Jean-François Ernotte, 48 years old, has a degree in Agronomy and Environmental Engineering. He began his career in 1993 at Spa Monopole as manager of a wastewater treatment plant. He then moved to Vedior and then Expectra Group as Account Manager from 1997 to 2001. Then, he joined Agritronics and Vtrade International, which became Vet X in 2017, where he held the position of General Manager Sales & Marketing.

About Vet X

Founded in 1990, Vet X is a Belgian company specialised in veterinary equipment and active in the Benelux, France, Switzerland, North African countries and the Middle East.

Vet X offers veterinarians equipment that is perfectly adapted to their needs and aims to optimise the integration of new technologies in their daily practice. From the design of the clinics to the installation of the equipment, Vet X provides a personalised follow-up including training, technical follow-up and equipment maintenance.